

KENNA RUDOMINER

GRADUATE ASSISTANT

PURPOSE

Criminology graduate student and psychology-law researcher with a passion for education and justice.

CONTACT

- Gainesville, FL
- ktrudo2@gmail.com
- (954)-856-6796

EDUCATION

University of Florida

Ph.D. in Criminology

- Expected M.A. 2022, Ph.D. 2025
- Teaching Assistant, Intro to Criminal Justice
- Researcher, LEAD Psychology-Law Lab
- Member, Criminology Syndicate

B.A. in Criminology

B.S. in Psychology, Behavior Analysis

- Degrees Conferred Cum Laude May 2020
- GPA: 3.97/4.0
- Research Assistant, LEAD Psychology-Law Lab
- Research Assistant, Behavior Analysis Research Clinic
- Secretary, Criminology and Law Honor Society
- Marketing Director, UF Psychology Club

RESEARCH

Dr. Levett LEAD Psychology-Law Lab

Wrongful Conviction

- Contributed to the creation of a wrongful conviction database
 - Expected completion 2021
- Research on factors contributing to wrongful convictions
 - Includes eyewitness misidentifications and jury decisions

Eyewitness Identifications

- Current research project on masks affecting identifications

Jury Decision Making

- Two encyclopedia entries on Jury Selection, Pretrial Publicity
 - Expected publication 2021
- Upcoming research on CSI effect and juror decisions

SKILLS AND ABILITIES

- Research and data collection
- SPSS, STATA, and Excel data analysis
- Microsoft Office and Adobe Creative Suite
- Extensive knowledge of Criminology and Psychology
- Skills in time management, organization, and communication